experienced nothing but kindness from all that he encountered through his amazing journey in life, inspiring all that had the pleasure of his company and his continued inspirations of all those who cared and helped him know there are no boundaries in life if you don't put them up. You can do anything you put your faith and mind to in this short time we have on this earth. Thank you to all that continued to encourage Jerry to write this book and a colleague who talked about a speech she was fortunate enough to hear, as I wouldn't have had an opportunity to get to know this amazing man that has inspired me to do more. This is a MUST read for all, no age restriction or genre. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. He is one of the kindest men I've ever met with the most positive outlook on life. If you ever need a pick-me up or want to cheer up someone's day order this book. Yet it was this early difficulty that drew others to Jerry in caring and love. The stories included in this book are a powerful example of how caring can mold a life and change a world. Others empowered Jerry to set goals and achieve greatness even in his imperfection. His example compels many to look at their own lives and take positive action.

About the Author Born with cerebral palsy, Jerry faced physical pain and loneliness that few children ever know. Yet it was this early difficulty that drew others to Jerry in caring and love. Others empowered Jerry to set goals and achieve greatness even in his imperfection. His example compels many to look at their own lives and take positive action. On crutches, Jerry has: Skied down Colorado mountains; competed in 35 full-length marathons; parachuted from an altitude of 12,500 feet; climbed to the 14,110-foot top of Pike's Peak; participated in 16 dance marathons for charity; and jogged 3,528 miles from San Francisco to New York City. In his national radio broadcast, The American Character, the late Dr. Norman Peale summed up Jerry's influence this way: "Building a career as a motivational speaker, Jerry Traylor has prepared himself by becoming a motivational doer: That way he is more convincing when he tells people what it takes to achieve difficult goals for they know he has achieved many."
