Elizabeth Flikkema : Make the World a Better Place!: My Sharing Time, Talent and Treasure Activity Book before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Make the World a Better Place!: My Sharing Time, Talent and Treasure Activity Book:

Children ages 7 to 12 will join Ant Philomena in learning about giving time, talent, and treasure--about becoming a philanthropist. Children are guided through activities that teach about philanthropy, community, saving money, making choices, and planning action for the common good. A great book that creatively empowers children to understand that they can make a difference by helping others.

About the Author Elizabeth Flikkema has worked in education for eighteen years. She taught second grade for nine years in Holland, Michigan, where she developed curriculum for the public school system. After teaching, she continued to work in curriculum development, first as an editor and later as a product developer for an educational publisher.
