T.R. Schellenberg : Management of Archives (Study in Library Science) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Management of Archives (Study in Library Science):

This book is a reproduction of a volume found in the collection of the University of Michigan Library. It is produced from digital images created through the Library's large-scale digitization efforts. The digital images for this book were cleaned and prepared for printing through automatic processes. Despite the cleaning process, occasional flaws may still be present that were part of the original work itself, or introduced during digitization, including missing pages.
